::AL-QURIA::

Assad regime forces fired shells into the midst of a market early Friday morning, 9th November. All the victims of the ensuing brutal massacre were civilians. Of the 22 documented martyrs so far, 15 were women, 3 were children, and the rest were civilian men. Dozens of men, women and children were wounded, and the number of martyrs is likely to rise due to the severity of their conditions and the severe shortage in medical staff and supplies. Even after the massacre took place, the regime forces continued to bombard Al-Quria.
